Wine Day Calendar

Description

Untitled

Each year certain days are earmarked as the Varietal Wine Days. Some of these are officially designated whereas others are celebrated through a popular consensus . Such specific wine days assume much importance since there are a whole lot of activities planned around the particular varietal and this generally enjoys a pan world character. A host of events, seminars, tastings etc get organized on these occasions dedicated to the particular wine being honored. And if you are not the active social wine person then you can even savor a glass of the special wine on that day.

In the infographic the various Wine Days popularly celebrated world over have been collated in form of a Wine Day Calender to facilitate some advance planning by the wine community. The information is sourced from Wine Folly. The calender may not be exaustive and can be updated with more entires.
