

No friend as loyal as a book

Description

What is the most important thing to carry with you all the time?

My answer is : BOOKS

The answer to todayâ??s prompt came quite instinctively to my mind â?? surely books have been with me always and proverbially speaking, it has the books that have carried me and seen me through all the ups and downs of life. And books have also fuelled my interest at various stages of life, including my current passion for wines.

To quote from my own blogpost *â??*As my wine passion grew so did my thirst for knowledge and I did some of best wine courses available in the country. But the one thing that really fueled my passion for wines has been the books on wine which I read*â?•*.

I have penned down as to how books fuelled my passion for wines and the post is shared as I below. Do read and share your comments.

How books fueled my passion for wines