

How we made a wine and cheese pairing at home

Description

How do you plan your goals?

“Back home, after some Google research we homed on to a recipe based on bread and cheese which was relatively easy to make”

The goal was quite straight forward and clear “to try making some simple home made dish to go well with wine.

Pursuing the passion for wines, we had been attending many wine dinners and socials and such events are mostly curated around wine and food pairings. Over the years, we wondered why we can’t do this at home itself. And this led to setting a goal of preparing a simple dish at home which goes well with wine.

As to how we went about achieving this goal â?? read in the blog post shared below. Do also share your own experiences similar to this also in the comments. Cheers.

Home made dish featuring Brie de France Cheese with Chilean Wine