

But First Champagne

Description

What are you doing this evening?

It's Wednesday and honestly speaking I have not particularly planned anything for the evening. Today's Prompt though has got me thinking.

With a brief mid week introspection, I've now decided to do the following three things this evening.

Evening Walk Although going for an stroll in the evening is a daily affair for us but for past few days this got interrupted due to the rains. With a sunny day today, I plan catch up on the evening walk with my better half.

Catching up on Writing Recently I started writing on my first fictional story based on a wine theme. It's titled The Lost Kingdom of Wine. Since today I would be back from work early so I would catch up on my writing and by working on the next chapter.

The Lost Kingdom of Wine â?? my first attempt at fiction writing

But First Champagne Donâ??t get me wrong folks, I do not drink on weekdays. But First Champagne is the name of a book by David White which Iâ??m currently reading. Itâ??s an in depth history of champagne region and itâ??s wines. I would utilise the free time today evening to catch up on my reading this wonderful book.

Having planned my activities, I now look forward to reading with curiosity about what you all plan to do today evening. Cheers !!
