

Three Jobs in the Wine Industry

Description

List three jobs youâ??d consider pursuing if money didnâ??t matter.

Wine Educator Having become knowledgeable in the subject of wines, I would like to be a wine educator to further spread wine knowledge and educate those who have a similar interest in wines.

Viticulture Expert I would like to be a viticulture expert providing requisite advise to the wine houses on best practices in the vineyards with special emphasis on tackling the challenges of climate change.

Pruning in the vineyard

Business Development Associate This role with any major international wine house, would be one where my two professional qualifications of MBA and WSET3 merge and would be certainly very interesting.

Cheers !!
